

GIGALAND'S PROPOSED DATA CENTER IN REMINGTON

WHAT HAPPENS IN REMINGTON WON'T STAY THERE

Historic Remington is the target of three new data centers, and the Gigaland complex will be the first of three proposed projects to begin county reviews this summer.

GIGALAND BY THE NUMBERS:

- Seven, 80-foot-high concrete buildings totaling more than 2.2 million square feet
- 200+ acres rezoned for the project
- Approximately 250 diesel generators emitting noise/pollution
- 600 megawatts of power - enough for 260,000 homes
- Four electrical substations occupying 21 acres

NOW IS THE TIME TO ASK COUNTY OFFICIALS TO VOTE NO ON GIGALAND

IF GIGALAND IS APPROVED:

- ✓ Remington will become a data center desert.
- ✓ The town's aspirations to develop as a livable community with a diversified economy will be gone.
- ✓ Quality of life will be seriously degraded by 24/7 noise and unsightly buildings and substations.

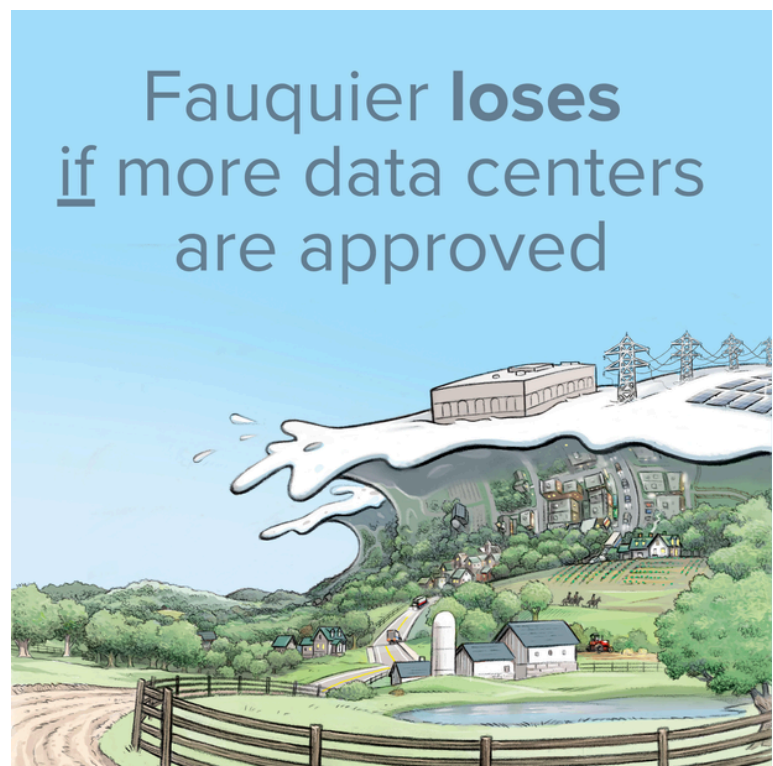

WHAT HAPPENS IN REMINGTON WILL IMPACT ALL OF FAUQUIER

People move to and stay in Fauquier for a reason: the open space, the quiet, the beauty, and the community-centered lifestyle. Data centers bring constant noise, pollution and 24/7 lighting.

If the county approves the Gigaland complex in Remington, it opens the door for the same thing to happen in other areas across Fauquier:

- All three proposed data centers will require rezonings and other undesirable land-use exceptions
- Rezoning in Remington will set a dangerous precedent for the county
- Many miles of electric transmission lines will cut across the county to supply the immense amount of power these, and potentially other facilities, will need in the future
